A smiling woman with dark hair in a bun, wearing a black blazer over a white shirt and a black skirt, stands next to a large white office printer. She is holding a white document in her left hand and has her right hand on the open top lid of the printer. The background is a bright, modern office with white walls and a window with sheer curtains. On the left side of the image, there is a vertical bar with five colored squares: red, orange, green, blue, and yellow. The text is positioned in the upper right area of the image.

Are you thinking about replacing your toner cartridge, or are you exploring different types? Feel free to ask if you need help picking the right one for your printer!
